Policies

Payments

Hatch River Expeditions requires an initial non-refundable, non-transferable deposit of $500 per person to book. Reservations are not confirmed until we receive both a deposit and a guest name for each space. Payment can be made via personal check, money order, Visa, Discover, and MasterCard. Guests paying by check or money order will have 14 days to get payment to the Hatch River Expeditions office. If 14 days from the initial reservation date have elapsed and full payment and guest list have not been received, any spaces not assigned and paid for will be removed from the reservation.

Final payments are due 120 days before trip departure. If final payment is not received when due, Hatch River Expeditions reserves the right to cancel the reservation without refunding the original deposit.

Registration Forms

You must complete a Registration Form for every guest on your reservation within 14 days of making your initial reservation. If that form is submitted by the deadline and it is determined that a guest will not be able to participate due to the information it contains, a full refund will be provided for that guest. Hatch River Expeditions reserves the right to cancel any guest's reservation at any time without refund if this form has not been completed accurately and returned by the deadline.

Cancellations

If you must cancel your reservation more than 120 days before your trip, you must notify us in writing. You will forfeit your initial non-refundable, non-transferable deposit. Any amount you have paid beyond the initial deposit will be refunded minus a 5% processing fee. Refunds made more than 90 days after payment will be issued as U.S. checks only.

If you must cancel less than 120 days prior to your trip, no refunds will be made and you will forfeit any funds paid to Hatch River Expeditions.

This policy applies to every cancellation and there will be no exceptions made for any reason. We will not issue refunds for cancellations due to illness or late arrivals due to travel delays. Our company has a limited number of spaces available and a short season. Once we accept your deposit, we can no longer sell that space to other possible guests and have likely already invested time, money, and energy into preparing for your trip and cannot afford the financial loss.

If you are concerned about the possibility of canceling your trip, we urge you to purchase travel insurance.

Age Limits

For full canyon motorized trips, the minimum age we typically accommodate is 8 years old. For all other trips, including oar powered trips, exchanges (upper/lower trips), and hiking focused trips, the minimum age we typically accommodate is 12 years old. Younger guests are only permitted if specifically approved by Hatch River Expeditions in advance.

Transfers/Substitutions

If a guest is not able to participate in a particular trip, there are two scenarios in which we will allow a change to the reservation to be made:

Option 1) If, prior to when final payment comes due, a guest is not able to participate in a trip they have booked and they would like to send another guest in their place, a substitution may be made if the guest pays a separate $200 change fee.

Option 2) If, prior to when final payment comes due, a guest would like to change their reservation from the original date on which they booked to another date within the same calendar year that has availability, the booking may be moved to a new date if the guest pays a separate $200 change fee. Date transfers to other years will not be permitted.

After final payments come due (120 days prior to a trip's start date), changes to guests or bookings will not be permitted. A guest may choose to cancel and rebook, forfeiting their non-refundable deposit and any additional payments made in accordance with our cancellation policy.

Outside Forces

Hatch River Expeditions reserves the right to cancel, delay, alter, or reschedule any trip due to forces outside of our control including but not limited to inclement weather, water levels and conditions and lack of sufficient reservations.* Hatch River Expeditions will not be held responsible for any cancellation, or for expenses incurred as a result of such cancellation. When booking with Hatch River Expeditions you agree to this policy.

*This includes potentially adding an "exchange" (upper/lower) component to a full canyon trip after it has begun booking.

Don't Forget Travel Insurance!

Choose a travel insurance policy with a Cancel for Any Reason option to protect your investment if your circumstances change and you aren't able to complete your trip.

Most "CFAR" plans require you to purchase within a short window after booking your trip, so be sure to look into your options right away!

One Trip Per Year

Grand Canyon National Park strictly enforces a "one trip per year" rule. Hatch River Expeditions is not permitted to accept a reservation from anyone who has or will participate in any other commercial or private, partial or full Grand Canyon river trip within the same calendar year.

Physical Requirements

NOTE: Seriously consider whether you are physically capable of hiking in the Grand Canyon. Excellent physical condition and endurance are critical to completing the hikes safely.

The Hiking Focused trip is specifically designed for guests who are willing and able to hike every day of their trip. Although none of the hikes on this trip are mandatory, participants will have a better experience if they're in good hiking shape. Some guests find they face additional challenges hiking in the Grand Canyon, especially adjusting to environmental conditions including heat, cold, elevation, weather, water, and sand. If you have factors that could make a trip more difficult due to age, weight, lack of conditioning, and heart or other diseases, consider talking to a doctor before committing. Please review our Risk Advisory to Health-Care Providers and Participants and our Release of Liability for more information.

Here are some minimum requirements to safely enjoy your journey:

- Able to hike every day. Some hikes may be multiple hours in duration.
- Able to fit into a Type 5 Life Jacket (max chest size 58")
- Able to hold onto the raft while going through whitewater. Ropes are provided throughout the raft for hand holds.
- Capable of climbing onto and off of the raft. There will be about a 2-3 foot step up/down from the raft to the beaches. Surfaces may be wet and slippery.
- Comfortable walking on uneven, rocky terrain. Trails in Grand Canyon are not regularly maintained. Also, sand beaches are the norm for camp sites, so make sure you are comfortable walking across sandy inclines.
- Able to carry your own personal gear to and from camp. The maximum weight for personal gear is 25 pounds.
- Able to tolerate prolonged/repeated exposure to water of 50°F
- Able to tolerate prolonged exposure to environmental temperatures up to 120°F (In colder months, temperatures may also drop to 30°F)

Note: We are happy to discuss other styles of trips that allow us to accommodate a wide range of physical challenges and medical conditions. Please contact our office so we can assist you personally with any concerns.

Pre-Trip Conditioning

Preparing in advance for the desert terrain can enhance your enjoyment as well as your ability to see some of the hidden gems the Canyon has to offer. Hiking trails are not maintained and include elevation gain, rocky terrain and even stream crossings. It's worth it to see that spectacular waterfall or phenomenal slot canyon, remember that all hikes are optional.

Conditioning before your trip will also aid in the camping experience. Most campsites are either sandy beaches or rocky ledges. Guests are responsible for carrying their own gear as well as setting up camp, so being physically fit will enhance this experience tremendously.

Review our 12 Tips for a Better Hike on the reverse of this page before your trip.

5 Great Pre-Trip Conditioning Activities:

1. Find and hike local trails that have elevation gain and loss.
2. Use the incline feature on machines at your local gym and take the stairs wherever you go.
3. Walk and hike on uneven terrain and rocky trails.
4. Purchase and break in hiking or cross training shoes and hiking sandals ahead of time to avoid blisters.
5. Get in the habit of drinking lots of water throughout the day – it's good for you every day, but mandatory on the river!

If by the balance due date, you cannot comfortably hike 6-9 miles, please contact our office.

Hiking in the Grand Canyon

Everyone who hikes in the canyon for the first time reports that it was more difficult than they expected.

Hiking in the Grand Canyon is a strenuous and potentially dangerous activity suitable for only those in excellent physical condition. If you have any history of ankle, knee, hip, or other joint problems, asthma or heart-related problems, or have recently undergone surgery, please consult your physician before attempting to hike in the Canyon. Temperatures typically exceed 100 degrees Fahrenheit (38 degrees Celsius) in the summer months.

Additionally, given that this is a group activity, it is important that you are physically able to participate with the group and be on time. Remember that your actions can affect the group experience.

PHYSICAL TRAINING BEFORE YOUR TRIP IS ESSENTIAL.

12 Tips for a Better Hike

1. EAT SALTY SNACKS almost as often as you drink. Balance your food intake with your fluid consumption so that your electrolyte levels stay within a normal range.

2. DRINK AT LEAST THREE LITERS of water and electrolytes per day. Do not wait until you feel thirsty—by that time, you are already dehydrated. Camelbak-style hydration packs work great with two backup water bottles. Note that bottled water in individual disposable containers is not sold in the park. You must bring refillable bottles with you.

3. REST at every opportunity and in shade when possible.

4. WEAR a WIDE-BRIMMED HAT and other skin-covering clothing for sun protection.

5. WET your hat, bandana and long-sleeved shirt at water stations.

6. PACK LIGHT. Take only what you need – and then double check it. Water should be your heaviest item.

7. PACE YOURSELF. A steady pace will not only prevent you from tiring too quickly, but will allow you to enjoy the scenery.

8. RESEARCH your trip. A Grand Canyon hike is not suitable for everybody. Make sure you read the summer hiking information on the Grand Canyon

National Park's website.

<http://www.nps.gov/grca/planyourvisit/hike-smart.htm>

9. PREPARE for your hikes by getting a good night's rest, eating a good dinner, and avoiding alcohol and other diuretics.

10. PRE-HYDRATE during your trip by drinking lots of WATER. Don't get behind!

11. WEAR COMFORTABLE SHOES and clip your toenails to avoid "black toe" and blisters.

12. STRETCH before you start, but prepare to have SORE MUSCLES the day after your adventure.

Camping with Hatch

We're here for you! Hatch trips are designed to accommodate everyone from the most experienced hikers to first time campers. We even provide you with camping gear (a camp chair, tent for 2, and "sleep kit" including a cot) so all you have to bring is your personal items.

Sandy beaches are typical campsites in the canyon, but each location is different, so be prepared for a different experience and view every night. Tent and sleeping sites are set up by guests and spread among the trees or across the open beach.

We set up kitchen near the boats so you can help unload then hang out in chairs nearby to take in the delicious aromas of guide-prepared meals.

Bathrooms:

Toilet facilities are set up shortly after arriving in camp in a secluded area, and are the last thing taken down in the morning. The toilets are dry, meaning that everyone urinates in the river and all other "business" is taken care of at the toilet.

Trip Overview (cont'd 2)

Just a Typical Day on the River...

Days on the river begin at dawn or earlier. Your boatmen will use the “coffee call” as the first sign that it is time to wake up. Smells of delicious breakfast may creep into your tent luring you out and persuading you it is time to crawl out of bed. Hot breakfasts are the norm with eggs cooked to order and a continental breakfast option as a lighter fare.

After breakfast, it is time to pack up camp and get moving. Form a “duffel line” with your fellow guests and work as a team to load the boats. You will be amazed how quickly camp can be taken down when everyone works together. Need help? Just ask! Throughout the morning, the guides will prepare you for the day ahead and the adventure that lies around the bend.

Once the gear is loaded, you are welcome to hop aboard our sturdy and reliable S-Rig rafts and get ready for some thrills. After breakfast, the typical day begins with a few hours of rafting and rapids. If you are ready to get up close and personal with those waves, sit towards the front of the raft or in the “bathtub”. If you prefer a more mellow experience sit towards the back near the boatmen in the “tea room.” Either way these rapids will amaze you with their enormity and awesomeness.

Trips usually stop every few hours to discover a pristine swimming destination or get a bit more active with a side canyon hike. Some of the hikes are more strenuous than others, but your thoughtful guides will make you aware of what is to come. Many of our guests’ favorite parts of the trip are the destinations at the end of some of the side hikes. After some fun in the morning, lunch will be served picnic-style on a sandy beach where you can eat, relax and enjoy the sights.

After lunch, there’s more exploring and likely more thrilling rapids ahead. At the end of a day filled with adventure, you’ll pull into camp in the afternoon to provide ample time for relaxation. Form a duffel line to unload the boats, then you are off to set up your camp. There will be demonstrations of camp set up on the first evening but you will be responsible to set up on subsequent nights. Relax and enjoy the sounds of the river, play on the beach or kick back with a good book as the guides prepare appetizers for you to munch on before dinner.

The food on our river trips is excellent and well-rounded. Dinner is often a highlight of the day with entrees such as fresh fish, grilled steaks, or barbequed chicken breasts. Vegetarian and other options will be accommodated to the best of our ability just make sure to discuss it with our office staff when making your reservation. Leave room for dessert, though, because our Dutch oven cakes and brownies will blow you away.

After dinner, it’s off to your camp where our comfortable sleep kit—ground cloth, camp cot, sleeping bag, sheet, and pillow—awaits. Get a good night’s sleep. There are more thrills tomorrow and daybreak comes early!

WHAT ABOUT MY DIETARY RESTRICTIONS?

We may accommodate dietary restrictions if possible and reasonable given the limitations of our trips when informed of those restrictions within 14 days of booking. Dietary preferences are our guests' responsibility to manage. Remember that this is a backcountry, wilderness expedition so limited vendors, space on the raft, and cookware can make accommodating each guest's specific dietary requests difficult. If you have particular dietary needs that you believe will not be met based upon this sample menu, you may request approval from Hatch to bring additional shelf-stable, ready-to-eat food to supplement that which is provided. Make sure to discuss your needs with our office staff when making a reservation (800-856-8966).

Please inform Hatch office staff of any dietary concerns you may have within 14 days of booking to give us adequate time to discuss your needs and provide reasonable accommodation where possible.

Common substitutions/accommodations:

Note: Items provided will vary depending on what our food suppliers have available. We operate out of a remote location and cannot guarantee specific items or brands due to this limitation. Typically organic foods are not available.

All guests with particular dietary needs should plan to discuss those needs with their guides at meal times.

For gluten-free guests: Hatch is typically able to provide gluten-free salad dressing, cereal, cookies, crackers, and bread. We also may be able to provide rice pasta, quinoa, and corn tortillas. If specifically requested, we can provide gluten-free cake for special occasions. Many dishes with bread or other gluten components can be served with the glutinous item separate from the other items. Due to the buffet-style meal service and our limited storage and kitchen equipment, we are not able to guarantee a trip free from the possibility of cross-contamination with gluten.

For dairy-free guests: Hatch is typically able to provide alternative milk (usually almond milk). Most dishes with cheese or other dairy components can be served with the dairy item separate from the other items.

For guests with limited meat/meat-free diets: Hatch is typically able to swap in other meats or meat substitutes for guests who do not eat the particular type of meat we are serving on a given night (i.e. chicken breast instead of steak for those who don't eat red meat; portabella mushroom or plant-based meat substitute products for those who don't eat any meat). In cases where the meat is a built-in component of a meal (such as spaghetti with meat sauce), a separate meat-free portion can be prepared or the meat component can be served separately. Due to the limitations of our food suppliers, we cannot guarantee which specific brands or types of meat substitutes will be available to you on your trip.

For guests with food allergies: Some guests request that we remove items they are allergic to from their trips; this request is one we are not able to accommodate. Due to the limitations inherent in providing meals to large groups of people in the backcountry, we are not able to guarantee an environment free from any particular allergen. Guests with food allergies should plan for a trip where there is a chance of ingesting their allergens either directly or through cross-contamination. We strongly encourage that all guests with food allergies discuss the nature and severity of their allergies along with the nature and limitations of a Hatch trip with their healthcare providers before committing to participating. (You can use our Risk Advisory to Healthcare Providers and Participants and this sample menu to aid you in this conversation.)

Once approved for participation, we recommend that guests read food labels and maintain open conversation with their guides about their needs to avoid potentially ingesting allergens (particularly for guests with allergies to common or hidden ingredients in prepared and/or shelf-stable foods). If necessary, and if they obtain Hatch approval in advance, some guests with food allergies may bring some of their own shelf-stable, ready-to-eat food items to supplement what we provide. Due to limited space and kitchen equipment, guests will not be permitted to bring food that requires kitchen preparation or refrigeration.

Risk Advisory to Health-Care Providers and Participants

Hatch River Expeditions, Inc. Experience. The Hatch River Expedition experience is not risk-free. Staff will instruct participants in safety measures. Clients must be: prepared to listen to and follow these measures and accept responsibility for the health and safety of yourself and others. Each participant will be in an isolated wilderness backcountry area and may be hiking over trails that are steep and rocky. Spring/Summer/Autumn climate includes temperatures from 30 to 120 degrees, low humidity (10 to 30 percent), and frequent, sometimes severe, thunderstorms Risk Advisory. Hatch River Expeditions, Inc. has an excellent health and safety record and strives to minimize risks to participants by emphasizing appropriate safety precautions. Because most participants are prepared, are conscious of risks, and take safety precautions, they do not experience injuries or illness. If you decide to take a river trip, you should be physically fit, have proper clothing and equipment, be willing to follow instructions, work as a team with your fellow participants, and take responsibility for your own health and safety. Hatch River Expeditions, Inc. guides are trained in first aid, CPR, and accident prevention. They can assist in recognizing, reacting to, and responding to accidents, injuries, and illnesses, HOWEVER, response times by outside medical emergency services are affected by location, terrain, weather, or other emergencies and could be delayed for hours or even days in the wilderness setting of all of our trips, as a result of these extreme conditions, Hatch River Expeditions, Inc. cannot guarantee the health, welfare and safety of its participants. All Hatch River Expeditions, Inc. participants should understand potential health risks inherent to the wilderness backcountry location of our trips.

Backcountry Expeditions. The backcountry experience encompasses: a physically demanding high adventure program in remote wilderness areas; camping while being exposed to occasional severe weather conditions such as lightning, hail, flash floods, and heat; and other potential problems, including injuries from tripping/falling and heat exhaustion can worsen underlying medical conditions. Native wild animals such as rattlesnakes usually present little danger if proper precautions are taken.

Food. Despite our best efforts, in the wilderness backcountry setting, our staff has no ability to guarantee that food allergens are not present in the meals we prepare or snacks that we offer. It is up to each and every participant with food allergies to read the labels on the packaged foods used in meal preparations or offered as snacks to ensure that they are not consuming a food allergen. Further, we highly encourage every guest with an allergy to meet with staff during meal time to discuss how food was prepared and to be advised of any possible cross contamination issues.

Medication. Each participant who needs medication must bring enough medicine for the duration of the trip. We highly encourage clients to consult with their medical advisors to determine an adequate supply of vital medications. A participant with allergies that have resulted in severe reactions or anaphylaxis must bring enough EpiPen that has not expired to be able to manage his/her condition if emergency response systems are unavailable for an extended period of time.

Immunizations. Each participant should have received a tetanus immunization within the last 10 years. We support the choices of those participants who do not have immunizations because of philosophical, political, or religious beliefs.

High Blood Pressure. Participants should have a blood pressure less than 140/90. People with hypertension (greater than 140/90) should be treated and controlled before participating on a river trip, and should continue on medications while participating. The goal of treatment should be to lower the blood pressure to normal levels. Those individuals with a blood pressure consistently greater than 160/100 may not be allowed to participate in a river trip.

Seizures (Epilepsy). The seizure disorder must be well-controlled by medication. A well-controlled disorder is one in which a year has passed without a seizure. Exceptions to this guideline may be considered on an individual basis, and will be based on the specific type of seizure and likely risks to the individual/other members of the crew.

Diabetes Mellitus. Both the person with diabetes and one other person in your party need to be able to recognize signs of excessively high or low blood sugar. An insulin-dependent person who was diagnosed or who has had a change in delivery system (e.g., insulin pump) in the last six months is advised not to participate. A person with diabetes who has had frequent hospitalizations or who has had problems with low blood sugar should not participate until better control of the diabetes has been achieved. If an individual has been hospitalized for diabetes-related illnesses within the past year, the individual may be required to obtain a letter of clearance from their treating physician to be considered for approval. Permission is not guaranteed.

Asthma. Asthma must be well-controlled before participating on a river trip. Well-controlled means: 1) the use of a rescue inhaler (albuterol) less than two times per week (except use for the prevention of exercise-induced asthma); 2) nighttime awakenings for asthma symptoms less than two times per month. Well-controlled asthma may include the use of long-acting bronchodilators, inhaled steroids, or oral medications such as Singulair. You may not be allowed to participate if: 1) you have asthma not controlled by medication; or 2) you have been hospitalized/gone to the emergency room to treat asthma in the past six months; or 3) you have needed treatment by oral steroids (prednisone) in the past six months. You must bring an ample supply of your medication and a spare rescue inhaler that are not expired. At least one other member of your party should know how to use the rescue inhaler. Any person who has needed treatment for asthma in the past three years must carry a rescue inhaler on the trip. If you do not bring a rescue inhaler, you may not be allowed to participate in your river trip.

Recommendations for Chronic Illnesses. Adults or youth with any of the following conditions should undergo an evaluation by a physician before considering participation on a river trip: 1) Chest pain, myocardial infarction (heart attack) or family history of heart disease in any person before age 50 2) Heart surgery, including angioplasty (balloon dilation), to treat blocked blood vessels or place stents 3) Stroke or transient ischemic attacks (TIAs) 4) High blood pressure 5) Claudication (leg pain with exercise, caused by hardening of the arteries) 6) Diabetes 7) Smoking or excessive weight. The physical exertion on a river trip may precipitate either a heart attack or stroke in susceptible people. Participants with a history of any of the seven conditions listed above should speak to a physician about whether a physician-supervised stress test is appropriate. Even if the stress test results are normal, the results of testing are often done at lower elevations, without backpacks, and do not guarantee safety. If the test results are abnormal, the individual is advised not to participate.

Recent Musculoskeletal Injuries and Orthopedic Surgery. Participants will put a great deal of strain on their joints. Individuals who have significant musculoskeletal problems (including back problems) or orthopedic surgery/injuries within the last six months may be required to obtain a letter of clearance from their treating physician to be considered for approval. Permission is not guaranteed.

Allergy or Anaphylaxis. If you are allowed to participate, you will be required to have appropriate treatment with you. You and at least one other member of your party must know how to give the treatment. If you do not bring appropriate treatment with you, you will not be allowed to participate.

Response times by outside medical emergency services could be delayed by hours or even days. Appropriate treatment will take into account that possible delay.

CPAP Devices. Eligible CPAP devices for use on motorized trips must 1) be DC; 2) be specifically designed for travel; and 3) not use a humidifier. CPAP devices are not permitted on our powered trips. If you provide advanced notice that you intend to use a CPAP device, Hatch River Expeditions, Inc. may provide you with a dedicated battery, but no guarantee can be made that your device will stay adequately charged throughout the entire duration of your trip. The number of dedicated batteries available is limited; if you travel at a time when these batteries are in high demand, there is no guarantee that you will receive one. In most cases, when a dedicated battery is not available, shared charging can be arranged. Batteries are charged using power from the boat's motor as it operates during the day; if there are a large number of batteries on a trip, it may not be possible to charge each one completely each day. Guests are advised to bring additional, fully charged batteries designed for their travel medical devices.

Electronic Medical Devices. Conditions in the backcountry environment of Grand Canyon, including heat, aridity, and exposure to water and sand, can contribute to the malfunction or failure of electronic medical devices. Participants who rely on such devices should bring at least one backup option for necessary treatments. Whenever possible, manual options for medical care should be considered as these are less likely to fail than their electronic counterparts.

Psychological and Emotional Difficulties. Participants should be aware that no high-adventure experience is designed to assist participants in overcoming psychological or emotional problems. Experience demonstrates that these problems frequently become worse, when a participant is under the stress of the physical and mental challenges of a remote wilderness setting. Medication must never be stopped prior to participation and should be continued throughout the entire river trip experience.

Weight Limits. Weight limit guidelines are used because overweight individuals are at a greater risk for heart disease, high blood pressure, stroke, altitude illness, sleep problems, and injury. Successful rescue in the backcountry can be impacted by a participant's weight, especially if the rescue transport is not able to accommodate the weight or size of a participant. Please discuss this potential risk with your health care provider if you are over 295 pounds.

Hatch River Expeditions Client Health Statement

At Hatch River Expeditions (HRE) we have always taken standards for hygiene and cleanliness very seriously. Our health and safety measures are designed to prevent the spread of illness and to mitigate the potential impacts of common communicable disease at our facilities and on our trips. These measures include broad strategies for illness prevention and response as well as specific procedures for housekeeping and sanitation, personal behavior and hygiene, and care of guests or crew members who fall ill while on our trips. They also include thorough training of HRE staff members and education for guests on how to stay healthy before and during a river trip.

HRE policies and procedures regarding health and safety are based on guidance from:

- the US National Park Service Office of Public Health
- the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention \(CDC\)
- the US Food and Drug Administration \(FDA\)
- the Occupational Safety and Health Administration \(OSHA\)
- the Arizona Department of Health Services
- the Coconino County Health Department

Policies and procedures are updated as the guidance from these and other relevant sources changes. Although HRE follows this guidance to the extent possible given the specific nature of rafting trips in the Grand Canyon, we are not able to completely eliminate the risk of contracting illness while on a rafting trip with Hatch River Expeditions.

We ask that our guests be active partners in protecting not only their own health, but also the health of other trip participants by following best practices for preventing the spread of illness before and during their trips. These practices include, but are not limited to:

Before a Trip and During Travel

- Washing hands frequently or using hand sanitizer when hand washing facilities are not available. (Especially when traveling in airports and other high-volume spaces.)
- To the extent possible, avoiding interactions with people outside of your party when traveling.
- Keeping a physical distance of at least 5 feet from others when in public.
- Wearing a face mask while in public and during travel.
- Avoiding contact with anyone who is unwell and their close contacts.
- Avoiding places that may be crowded such as gatherings, indoor public spaces, and public transport.
- Coughing or sneezing into a tissue or bent elbow, and not into one's hands, then throwing used tissues in the trash and washing hands afterward.
- Monitoring oneself for symptoms and refraining from travel or joining a trip if ill.

On the River

- Washing hands frequently, especially before eating and after using the bathroom.
- Using hand sanitizer to supplement hand washing and when hand washing facilities are not available.
- Self-monitoring for common symptoms of illness and reporting symptoms or other concerns to the guides.
- Bringing personal thermometers and masks to support self-monitoring of symptoms and to aid in the prevention of illness spread should one develop symptoms of illness.

The decision to participate in a Grand Canyon river trip with Hatch River Expeditions is an individual choice, and it is the guest's responsibility to maintain the best health practices before and during the trip for the benefit of the group as a whole. Consideration and respect for health and safety of all is paramount to a successful trip.
